Corrective Discipline Process

Manager's/Supervisor's Checklist

Initial steps:

- Review the Corrective Discipline Policy PS 803.
 - Contact the Human Resource Business Partner Team.
 - Assess the potential seriousness of the matter to determine the possible level of discipline and/or if an outside agency (police, regulatory agencies) may need to be involved.

Conduct the investigation:

- Obtain as much detail as possible from the person reporting the incident/situation and identify potential witnesses.
- Meet with the employee after advising them of their right to Union representation. Ensure a union representative is present during the meeting. If the employee does not want union representation, obtain a waiver of representation (SGEU only; union representation is mandatory if CUPE 600).

During the meeting:

- advise the employee of the allegations;
- ask for and listen to the explanation;

Ask if the employee has any witnesses; Inform the employee that they may choose to access the Government of Saskatchewan Employee and Family Assistance Program (EFAP) if they would like to access confidential short-term counselling or work, health or life services. Advise the employee of the next steps.

Interview witnesses:

- attempt to verify any of the employee's or other witnesses' claims/statements;
- ensure witnesses have direct knowledge of events;
- advise witnesses of the need for confidentiality;
- follow up with employee if questions remain or new questions arise.

Determine the sanction:

- Discuss the matter with the Human Resource Business Partner Team.
- Determine the proper level of authority to impose the discipline.

Consider:

- employee's length of service;
- employee's past discipline record;
- seriousness of the misconduct;
- employee's explanation;
- any other pertinent facts.

Prepare to impose the discipline:

- Set up the meeting and advise the employee of their right to representation (see B. 2).
- Have the letter to be provided to the employee and (if necessary) the Union, signed by the person in authority.
- Choose a venue that ensures privacy.
